CLERGY HAS ANNUAL MEETING

Rev. J. Eldred Brown Reelected as President for 14th Time—Schedule for the Season.

The annual meeting of the Clergy of the New London county archdeaconry was held in this city on Monday afternoon. Dinner was enjoyed at the Wauregan house, after which the meeting was held in the vestry of the Trinity Episcopal church. As president of the organization for the fourteenth time, Rev. J. Eldred Brown of this city was chosen, while Rev. C. S. M. Adams of Groton was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

The schedule made for the ensuing year is as follows:
Jan. 2—Essayist, S. H. Dixon; book reviewers, Revs. Brown, Hooker and Bohanan.
Dec. 5—Committee report on work among the foreigners and social service. The committee to report are as follows: Rev. J. Eldred Brown, chairman; Revs. Carey, Bohanan, Kerridge, Adams, Stark, Irwin and Winslow T. Williams, on Work Among the Foreigners; and Revs. Moore, Jones and Mason on Social Service.

his duties there Saturday night. He was called on by Charles S. Bill, but formerly an honored resident of Taftville.

Mr. Bill left this place in 1894, after a long residence here, during which time he was employed for fifteen years in the old Penman store. He was appointed postmaster here and held office from April 15, 1889, to October 15, 1893. Soon after the expiration of his term of office he moved to Danielson, where he has since made his home. His many friends in Taftville are pleased to learn of his return.

Pleasant Outing at Pachaug Pond.
A party of fifteen from this place went to Pachaug pond, in the town of Griswold, Saturday afternoon and enjoyed a delightful outing there. Most of their time was spent in fishing on the pond, when over a hundred fine fish were caught, and at night they camped out on the Woods farm in that neighborhood.

Personal Items.
Edward Krodol of South A street has gone to Providence R. I., in a business trip.

John Hempton of River Point, R. I., is calling on friends in this place on Monday.

Misses Elodia Morin and Jyenne Phaneuf of Williamstown spent the day Sunday with friends in Taftville.

Joseph Nevins of Mystic was visiting on Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nevins, at Taft station.

Hector Dauphin and Miss Anna Dugan returned from Canada, where they spent a pleasant five weeks, visiting with friends and relatives.

Cornelius Corcoran of Hunter's avenue leaves this (Tuesday) afternoon for Providence, where he will enter the employ of the J. W. Bishop company.

STATE PRESIDENT

FROM RHODE ISLAND.

Mrs. Livingstone to Be Asked to Come Here on Nov. 13 by W. C. T. U.

At their room in the Bill hotel the Woman's Christian Temperance union held their October meeting on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The president, Miss Harriet C. Cross, presided, and the usual devotional exercises opened the meeting.

The reports of the secretary, Mrs. H. E. Palmer, and of the treasurer, Mrs. S. H. Wood, were read and approved. Mrs. Mead also reported on the recent county convention at Pawcatuck, speaking especially on the question asked in Mrs. Buell's brief remarks, "Are we in debt?"

It was voted to request Mrs. Livingstone, state president of Rhode Island, to come here for a union meeting on world's temperance Sunday, which is Nov. 12. Miss Cross reported on an address made by Mrs. Livingstone on the world's convention at Glasgow. This convention meets once in three years.

Mrs. J. J. Fields reported also from the county convention, speaking especially of the prizes for the best flower mission work. Over 1,100 bouquets had been sent out, 350 garments, and several hundred glasses of jelly and fruit.

Mrs. Mead was appointed delegate and Mrs. G. O. Stead alternate to the state convention on October 18-20.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. B. K. Mumford.
Unobtrusive kindness and tender sympathy was shown by Rochester friends of Bernice K. Mumford, says the Rochester, Minn., Times of Sept. 24, for the body of his beloved wife was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery this afternoon. The casket arrived from Battle Creek, Mich., this morning, accompanied by Mr. Mumford, one, her husband and Mrs. Edward Groves and F. S. Blodgett, who personally represented the Boston firm of Blodgett, Ordway & Webster, of which Mr. Mumford is a member.

but impressively conducted by Rev. Victor L. Greenwood of the Congregational church at the home of Mrs. A. K. Knapp, 22 West College street. A wealth of beautiful roses and lilies surrounded the casket, giving expression to the love the friends bore Mary Peck Mumford and the consolation they wished to offer her husband. The casket was borne to its final resting place by Messrs. Henry S. Adams, E. A. Knowlton, J. A. Melone, Bert W. Eton, John M. Rowley and Frank E. Gooding.

It is found that Mrs. Mumford, who took her life in a Montreal hotel, was the victim of hereditary insanity. Her mother when about the same age took her life in the same way, and two sisters of the deceased are in a hospital for the insane at this time. Her domestic life was an exceedingly happy one, her husband adoring her with that love and money could provide. Lately, however, she had been ill in health and was very apprehensive that her mind might give way, as in the case of her mother and sisters. Evidently she had brooded over this until she brought on the very condition she feared.

Mrs. Mumford had many friends in this city.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

The Auditorium opened the week on Monday with an inviting vaudeville programme which was received with plentiful applause by well filled houses. Heading the bill was the Barbeau band, an organization of musicians whose ten versatile members combine to make a varied programme. To their clever instrumental work as a band they add vocal solo, high singing, dancing, illustrated songs and variety throwing in the two little Donkeypicks as special stars.

Donkeypicks, a duo of juggling team, do some treading water, finishing up with a feature when Miss Dewitt sits in a chair which her partner holds

Jan. 2—Essayist, Rev. Townsend; book reviewers, Revs. Morse, (Sewart, Irwin).

Feb. 6—Essayist, Rev. C. J. Mason; book reviewers, Revs. Corcoran, Williams, Adams.

March 6—Essayist, Rev. R. M. D. Adams; book reviewers, Revs. Dixon, Mason, George.

April 3—Essayist, Rev. George; book reviewers, Revs. Townsend, Carey and Kordas.

Oct. 5—Annual meeting—Essay by Rev. R. S. Irwin; election of officers, and regular business. A departure from the regular business will be the essay in addition to other business.

Those in attendance were Revs. J. Eldred Brown, F. J. Bohanan, Norwich; C. J. Mason, Stoughton; F. S. Moore, Black Hall; W. S. Williams, Westerly; Albert C. Jones, Mystic; W. E. Hooker, Poquitanuck; J. H. Townsend, Williamstown; C. S. M. Stewart, Groton; Sidney H. Dixon, Putnam; P. Irwin, Pomfret; R. M. D. Adams, Stafford.

balanced above his head by gripping one of the rounds with his teeth. Clark brothers, fancy ring gymnasts, who arrived in time for the evening performance, took the place of the Rosalie sisters on the bill, as the latter were not able to get here in time. The added team were a strong addition and won big hands. The moving pictures offered an attractive line of subjects, including comedy and other subjects.

HEBREW NEW YEAR.

Observance Began at Sundown on Monday.

The observance of Rosh Hashanah, the Hebrew New Year, began at sundown on Monday and will be a two-day religious holiday. Services in the synagogues are held Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, but in the afternoon there are family gatherings, at which plentifully spread tables are set for a feast. At the synagogue of the Brothers of Joseph the special services will be conducted by Rabbi J. Rosenberg, and at the United Brethren synagogue the rabbi in charge will be Rev. S. Sobel.

Ten days after Rosh Hashanah comes Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement, when the solemnity of the Hebrew religious observances.

Making Visits in Massachusetts.
Rev. Albert P. Blinn of Oak street, who was unanimously elected commander of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, United Order of the Golden Cross, at its annual session at Boston, is making a series of visitations this week to commanders in South Framingham, Wrentham, Natick, Weston and Boston.

Frederick Nicholson of Boston, test medium, will assist Mr. Blinn at the Spiritual Academy next Sunday.

Commercial Travelers Meet.
Norwich council, No. 309, United Commercial Travelers, met on Saturday evening for the first time in their new meeting place. This hall, having changed from Foresters' hall, there was a good attendance, but no special business. The new hall was admired as a place for the council gathering.

It was decided to hold the first Saturday evening of the month, as usual.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coliard Adams at Old Homestead in Cromwell Monday.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coliard Adams was celebrated Monday at the Adams-Ramsey homestead in Cromwell, in which homestead Elizabeth Grisdley Ramsey was born on Feb. 18, 1833. Their children and grandchildren and a few near relatives dined with them. From 3 to 5 in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Adams received their friends.

Their children are Mrs. Elizabeth Kincaid, wife of J. Harvey Kincaid, of Middletown, James Mortimer Adams of Hartford, for over twenty-five years employed in the times office, and Charles Grisdley Adams of Danbury, Conn. The youngest child, Arthur Ramsey Adams, died in 1887 of typhoid fever, aged 22.

Charles Coliard Adams was born in Washington, D. C., June 22, 1835, the son of George Adams, who served from there in the war of 1812, and the grandson of Samuel Adams, a patriot of the Revolution, who descended from Francis Adams, who had settled in Maryland before 1662. On his mother's side he is descended from Samuel Coliard, who came from England and in 1770 bought and settled on land in what was the Carrollburg, now within the limits of Washington.

Mrs. Adams is the daughter of James Ramsey, who descended from Thomas Ramsey and his wife, Mary Hubbard, who were married in May 1658, and settled in Cromwell, and through her grandmother is descended from the Rev. James Keith, who was buried in 1730 in St. Machar cemetery, Aberdeen, Scotland. On her mother's side
